Roberts Freed In Shooting

No Homicide Evidence Found

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Investigation of the fatal shooting of Mrs. May Roberts was at a standstill today after her 21-year-old husband, Frank Roberts jr., was ordered freed last night by County Prosecutor Harold Lutz.

Only comment Lutz would make today on the release of Roberts was:

"There was insufficient evidence of homicide, from the police investigation."

Asked if he would seek further investigation of the Saturday morning shooting, Lutz replied: "It's up to the police to investigate. I only weigh the evidence they present."

A county prosecutor can, however, order further investigation of any case which comes to his attention.

Police officers who took part in the investigation of the shooting at the Roberts home, 374 Marshall avenue, appeared surprised and puzzled that Roberts was released.

Detective F. Bruce Friday who conducted the investigation said police officers "have made an extensive investigation.

"We have compiled all known facts about all persons present at the time the shooting occurred, and turned it over to the prosecutor. That's all we can do.

"It's the prosecutor's job to take a case before a grand jury and get an indictment."

RIFLE IN CORNER

According to police, Mrs. Roberts, 39, died of a bullet wound which entered the upper part of her right arm and passed into her chest. A high-powered hunting rifle believed used in the shooting was found propped in a corner of the kitchen where the shooting occurred about 3 a. m. Saturday.

Police said Mrs. Roberts had gone out with relatives who had come to the home earlier in the evening for a family reunion. Roberts was reported to have remained at home. The shooting occurred shortly after Mrs. Roberts returned home with relatives.

Theodore Smitherman of Detroit, brother-in-law of the victim, said he was putting the car away in the Roberts' garage when Roberts ran down the steps and said "May's been shot." Smitherman said he had not heard a shot.

The injured woman died enroute to General hospital in Smitherman's car. Roberts accompanied his wife and Smitherman to the hospital where he was later arrested by police.

Several other relatives were reported in the home at the time of the shooting.

Funeral services for Mrs. Roberts will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Geiger funeral home. Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, will officiate and burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Arrest Six In Gaming Raid

MIDDLETOWN — (AP) — The State Liquor department enforcement division's campaign against gambling shifted to Middletown yesterday.

Frank M. Acton, head of the enforcement office in Cincinnati, led a group of his own agents and Middletown policemen in three raids here which produced six arrests. Thomas D. Carmody, Middletown police chief, signed warrants charging all of those arrested with operating handbooks.

The officers raided two rooms which are adjacent to taverns. The third raid was at the Silver Dollar cafe.

It was Acton who recently led a series of such raids in Cincinnati. He said they found handbooks being operated in all three places raided here.

Frigid Frog, Aged 1,200, Seen Entry

ANGELS CAMP, Cal.—(UP)—Lazarus, a 1,200-year-old frog found in a chunk of glacial ice, was listed today as a possible darkhorse in the annual jumping frog contest.

Dr. D. L. Albasio found Lazarus two weeks ago frozen deep in the ice of Dana Glacier in Yosemite National park. Albasio estimated that the frog is 12 centuries old.

Albasio said: "There's a good chance we can defrost him and bring him to life with a shot of benzedrine."

T-H Repeal Bill Goes To House

Filibuster Seen On 'Hot' Measure

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The administration's Taft-Hartley repealer came up in the House today, with Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin jr., predicting its defeat.

Martin said he is confident the House will reject the administration bill in favor of the so-called Wood substitute. However, he said that unless the House approves the Wood bill by Friday, debate will be dragged out for about two weeks.

His statement brought immediate cries of derision from supporters of the administration's bill, which would repeal the Taft-Hartley act and enact a modified version of the old Wagner law.

Chairman John Lesinski, D., Mich., of the House Labor committee said the Wood bill is a "dead duck." He predicted its defeat by "at least 20 votes."

Rep. Augustine B. Kelley, D., Pa., floor manager for the administration's bill, said that Martin's statement "sounds like the threat of a filibuster."

"These rumors of a filibuster are increasing all the time," he said. "We plan to permit adequate debate, but we are not going to stand for any prolonged talkfest against a measure clearly demanded by the people at the polls last November."

It was expected that the House debate would last at least until the end of the week.

Elsewhere in Congress:

Health—Sen. Lister Hill, D., Ala., who is usually a staunch supporter of President Truman's legislative program, told reporters he believes a "substantial majority" of the Senate will support voluntary health insurance legislation and reject the administration's compulsory insurance program.

Spending—The Senate Armed Services committee has drafted a proposal to carry out a Hoover commission recommendation designed to save the government $1,000,000,000 a year in defense spending.

Question Minister In Death of Woman

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — (AP) — Authorities today questioned an Episcopal clergyman in connection with the death of a woman, identified as his wife, whose bullet-pierced body was found in the Genesee river.

Sheriff Albert Skinner said the clergyman was the Rev. George Helenyi, of Buffalo. He was brought to Rochester after the slaying victim was identified by fingerprints as Jean G. R. Gareis Helenyi, 26, formerly of Oakland, Calif.

Bids On 3 Schools Sought

Brinkerhoff Plans OK'd

The Mansfield board of education today asked for bids on construction of a new 13-room Brinkerhoff school to serve the rapidly-growing southwest section of the city. Bids will be opened May 25.

At the same time the board announced bids will be accepted until June 1 on construction of a Woodland school addition and until June 8 on an addition to the Hedges school.

The Brinkerhoff building will face Euclid avenue between Highland and Arlington avenues. It will replace the present building on Marion avenue.

Besides the 13 classrooms, the school will have a combination auditorium-gymnasium.

The Hedges and Woodland additions are to have 12 rooms each and combination auditoriums—gymnasiums. Part of the present Hedges building will be demolished to make way for the new construction.

The three projects are part of the big elementary school program which was started with the new Roseland school and an addition to the Rebecca Grubaugh school.

Work now is underway on new West Fifth and Newman buildings.

The board recently purchased the Hartman property at Marion avenue and Carpenter road as the site for a new Carpenter school. Board Administration offices will be in the large house on the property.

Plans for the Brinkerhoff building and the Hedges and Woodland additions were approved by the board at a special meeting yesterday afternoon.

The board voted to spend an additional $109.89 for a fire alarm box to connect Rebecca Grubaugh school with the city fire alarm system. The original estimate was that much lower.

Another change notice was approved by the board. This one was for $4,316 to build shelves in 17 class rooms at West Fifth street school.

New Pension Drive Looms

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Union leaders said today they hope to win pension privileges for 2,000,000 steel and auto workers as result of a supreme court decision requiring employers to bargain collectively on pensions.

Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel of the CIO and the United Steelworkers of America, said the union "looks to employers to fulfill their legal duty" in accordance with yesterday's action by the court.

"No reason now exists," saidGoldberg , "why mutually satisfactory agreements on pensions and retirements cannot be concluded through the processes of collective bargaining."

President Walter Reuther of the suto workers said that "armed with this decision, the UAW-CIO will proceed with all vigor in its negotiations with management for old age pensions and health security."

Call Atom Scientists

Spy Probers Quiz Admitted Red Agent

WASHINGTON —(UP)— House spy-hunters summoned an admitted communist agent and three scientists today in a new effort to determine whether Russia got a set of U. S. atom bomb secrets.

All three of the scientists called as witnesses by the House un-American Activities committee worked at the radiation laboratory of the University of California in Berkeley during World War II.

They are Joseph Weinberg, now of the University of Minnesota, Giovanni Lominatz of Fisk university, Nashville, Tenn., and David B. Bohm of Princeton.

Summoned with them was Steve. Nelson, communist organizer in western Pennsylvania who figured in California's "Scientist X" mystery and an unexplained contact with a Russian official in San Francisco in the spring of 1943.

According to testimony cited in a committee report last October, "Scientist X" visited Nelson's home in San Francisco six years ago. This scientist, whose name was withheld after he denied the whole story, allegedly delivered a "formula of importance" in the development of the a-bomb, the committee report said.

MEETS VICE-CONSUL

Several days later, according to the same report, Nelson met a Russian vice consul on the grounds of St. Francis hospital in San Francisco and was seen to give him something. The committee report implied that the formula was passed to the Russian.

Called before the committee last year, Nelson refused to testify. But he admitted to reporters that he is a communist agent.

The un-American Activities committee opened its espionage hearings yesterday with testimony concerning the American Slav congress. Committee Chairman John S. Wood, D., Ga., said sessions will be held this week as well as the weeks of May 8 and May 22.

Long Flight Ends Today

Fliers Pass 1,000 Hours In Air

FULLERTON, Calif. — (AP) — Two tired fliers came out of the sky today after remaining aloft so long they've probably forgotten how to walk.

Bill Barris and Dick Riedel plan to land their Sunkist Lady this afternoon, just six weeks after taking off from here on their fourth quest for a world endurance flight record.

"We're so tired we don't talk to each other any more," Barris reported between yawns as the last long hours droned by.

They fully expect to need walking lessons. Forced down after 568 hours in their third try, they required several days to acquire their "land legs." And this time they've been up nearly twice as long.

Nearly 12 days ago Riedel and Barris broke the old endurance flight record of 726 hours, set 10 years ago over Long Beach, Calif. The six-week flight of 1,008 hours is the original goal they set.

Rat Turns Tables By Trapping Dog

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A rat discovered a better dog trap last night.

Hotly pursued by Lady, a two-year-old collie-shepherd, the resourceful rodent headed into a space between two buildings. The rat got through but Lady stuck.

Firemen, police and the humane society freed the dog three hours later.

Judy Coplon To Testify

Spy Trial In Second Day

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Judith Coplon, former Justice department employe who has been accused of espionage, will take the stand in her own defense.

Her lawyer, Archibald Palmer, said he intends to call the girl to the witness stand when she opens her defense against charges that she relayed government secrets to a Russian agent.

Palmer has indicated that the defense will claim that Miss Coplon associated with Valentin A. Gubitchev only because she was gathering material for a book.

Gubitchev, a Russian engineer formerly attached to the United Nations, was arrested with the girl last month in New York.

Miss Coplon's trial opened yesterday after Palmer tried unsuccessfully to have Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves of Kansas City, Mo., throw the case out of court. The defense attorney argued that several members of the Washington grand jury that returned the indictment against her were government employes.

He contended that because they had to take a loyalty oath, government workers could not have an open mind on the case.

Navy Chief Quits Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan resigned today in protest against scrapping the 65,000-ton super aircraft carrier.

A White House announcement on Sullivan's departure was understood to be in preparation.

Sullivan is known to have submitted his resignation in a talk with the President yesterday.

His action, which had been expected, is based on his belief that the navy is not being given proper consideration in defense policy.

Secretary of Defense Johnson's order Saturday to stop work on the $189,000,000 carrier was just one of a series of incidents against which Sullivan is protesting, associates said.

Top White House aides expressed belief Sunday night that the torpedoing of the carrier project was "the straw that broke the camel's back" so far as Sullivan is concerned.

Truman Would Slash European Aid Funds

WASHINGTON — (INS) — President Truman today recommended to Congress a cut of 157 million, 800 thousand dollars in funds for the European Recovery program for the next 15 months.

The President said in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex., that "a number of developments" have made it possible to reduce the amount authorized by Congress for Economic Cooperation administration.

U. S. Sees Way Clear, Soviets Seek Parley

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(UP)— The State department said today that "the way appears clear for lifting the Berlin blockade and a meeting of the council of foreign ministers" if Tass reports on the current position of the Soviet government are accurate.

★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON —(INS)— President Truman today approved plans for possible negotiations with Russia to lift the Berlin blockade and a top American official called the situation "hopeful."

Philip Jessup, U. S. delegate to the United Nations who reportedly received a Russian offer to lift the blockade in return for agreement on a big four foreign ministers conference on Germany, conferred with Mr. Truman at the White House.

Under Secretary of State Webb also took part in the conference and announced that the State department later today would issue "a clarifying statement on the Russian overtures."

Jessup confirmed the correctness of Soviet news agency reports that private conservations have been taking place on the problem.

Both U. S. officials made their statements concerning conversations between U. N. Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik and Jessup seeking settlement of the long-standing Berlin impasse.

Jessup, upon leaving the President's office, was asked whether the situation is "hopeful." He replied:

"Yes, it is hopeful."

Webb told newsmen that the President was informed of all steps being taken by the State department in connection with the Russian offer and "has approved them."

The chief executive talked with Webb and Jessup for about 20 minutes.

Jessup confirmed reports by the Soviet news agency Tass that he has had "a number of conversations" with Jacob Malik, Russian delegate to the United Nations, on the German question.

Pressed for comment on the possibility that the blockade, now nearly a year old, is to be lifted without further delay as a preface to a big four meeting on Germany, Webb told newsmen cryptically:

"Wait for the statement."

Later at the State department, its spokesman, Michael J. McDermott, said:

"I can confirm that there have been conversations between Mr. Jacob Malik and Mr. Jessup concerning the Berlin blockade and a statement concerning the Tass report will be given you later this afternoon."

McDermott declined to go into any further details.

Negotiations in the past have broken down, both in and outside the United Nations, on the subject of timing. The western powers have insisted that the blockade be lifted before any big four session.

As Tass described the offer, the Russians now propose that their blockade and the western powers' counter-blockade be lifted, and that the four nations' foreign ministers then meet and discuss all outstanding German problems.

Moscow's press published today the terms under which the Soviet Union offers to lift the blockade of Berlin.

Fleet Pulls Out; 2,050 Left Behind

Americans Stuck as Reds Near Shanghai

SHANGHAI — (UP) — The entire U. S. fleet fled suddenly from Shanghai today, abandoning plans for a scheduled evacuation of 2,050 Americans in haste to escape a communist trap that threatened to cut Shanghai's only outlet to the sea.

The warships started sailing down the Whangpoo to the safety of the open Yangtze at 10:40 a. m. led by Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger in his flagship Eldorado.

"Recent incidents on the Yangtze require a re-appraisal of plans which had been made for the evacuation of Americans to points of safety," a terse navy announcement said in explanation.

Americans left stranded in communist-menaced Shanghai watched from office windows along the bund with a sense of foreboding as the vessels steamed past. Many made plans to overtake the fleet in small boats before dark.

(However, International News service reported enough small boats had been left behind to evacuate the Americans and 4,000 Britons should they decide to leave.)

The communist drive was launched on a line running from the Yangtze south of Soochow. Nationalist troops met the assault in a heavy battle north of Soochow, 50 miles west, marking the first time the Nationalists have stood and fought on the approaches to Shanghai.

Indicating the emergency nature of the ships' departure was the fact that the hospital ship Repose, which originally was ordered to stay behind and carry out part of the evacuation, joined the sudden withdrawal.

British Order Cruiser To Race to China Coast

LONDON —(INS)— An 8,000-ton British cruiser was ordered to race to the Far East today and other British ships, including aircraft carriers, were reportedly alerted to reinforce the British fleet off the coast of war-stricken China.

An admiralty announcement said that the Fiji class cruiser Jamaica, armed with nine six-inch guns, has been ordered to leave Bermuda and "steam to the Far East at the best speed consistent with endurance." The Jamaica, built in 1940, has a speed of 31.5 knots, about 35 miles per hour.

The warship is presumably headed for Hong Kong, the base of Britain's far eastern fleet. The Admiralty announcement said that British ships at Shanghai will be withdrawn "as soon as circumstances permit."

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Clement Attlee told the House of Commons today that Chinese communists have rejected all British attempts to achieve a "working arrangement" with them.

Attlee reported to the House on the Chinese situation, particularly the events of last week when four British warships exchanged fire with communist batteries on the Yangtzee river, suffering heavy casualties.

The prime minister said at the time when the sloop Amethyst was grounded by communist fire, leading to the other exchanges, Chinese Nationalists still properly constituted authority in China and had sanctioned movement of British warships on the river.

Attlee reiterated Britain's policy of "non-intervention" in the Chinese civil war.

Arlin, Fankhauser Won't Run Again

2 Members to Leave Board

HAROLD W. ARLIN

A. H. FANKHAUSER

Harold W. Arlin and A. H. Fankhauser, members of the Mansfield board of education for 16 years, have decided not to seek re-election in November.

Walton O. Leedy, other member whose term expires this year, said he would run again. He has been on the board eight years.

Arlin has been president of the board during all the 16 years he has been a member.

Leedy said he previously had not planned to seek re-election, but he thought a change in three of the five members at one time was "too much."

Fankhauser and Arlin said there were plenty of capable men in Mansfield who could handle the job. The term of office is four years and there is a salary of $2 per meeting. No one on the board collects the $2 fee. The board meets once a month.

Arlin explained he no longer has any children in school and he feels someone else ought to have a chance at it.

The other two members of the board are Harold A. Bruce and Dr. W. R. Riester.

School board candidates won't have to file their petitions with the county board of elections until Aug. 10. Members are elected on a non-partisan ballot.

'Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend' Hailed as Titilating Title

A MOVIE TITLE that has a nice swing to it is Preston Sturges' latest, "The Beautiful Blonde from Bashful Bend." . . . Anne Baxter doesn't attract the publicity citations her impressive film performances merit . . .

Most thespians out of the public eye for 6 months are forgotten. But Garbo is still a big name—although her last film was made 8 years ago.

Food fee whittling is best illustrated by this: You can gobble a complete dinner in Schrafft's for $1.45 . . .Here's an item that can almost make you hear your arteries harden: Shirley Temple was old enough to vote on Saturday . . .Why it's called the Big Town: Our city's population is greater than 41 of the world's 70 nations. Now you know why you can't find a squatspot on subways.

The realistic lynching episodes in the "El Paso" flicker are shockers . . . A gal who skyrocketed during the past year is Doris Day. She knows how to coo a ballad and is an expert at swapping sass.

An actress who portrays a sinful gal in a current film was described by the N. Y. Times cineman: "She looks what she's made out to be."

If you want to know how films can be high-class and highbrow—see "Quartet." The cinematization of 4 Maugham yarns grips the attention like a scream in the night . . . Variety declares the film industry's gross in '48 was $66 million less than the previous year. Which explains why producers are seeing the wolf at the gangplank of their yachts.

Doughnut Makers, at Least, Make Some Dough Out of Pyramid Clubs

NEW YORK—If you didn't make much dough out of the Pyramid club craze, don't feel lonesome.

It's dollars to doughnuts that more people got doughnuts than dollars out of these get-rich-quick enterprises.

Because at most of the parties launching Pyramid clubs you at least got a doughnut and a cup of coffee. It is another matter how many people, for the $1 they plunked down, got back twelve days later the $2,000 they hoped for.

For very, very few seem to have worked their way to the top of the pyramid — people being what they are, and dollars being what they are.

But the doughnut industry did well indeed. It is still doing well in areas just being infected by this modified version of the 1935 "chain letter" epidemic.

To check on this point I phoned a spokesman for the doughnut industry.

"Is this Mr. Sugarman calling?" asked his telephone girl.

Honest she did. And I had to curb a sudden made desire to forget all about pyramid clubs and try to learn what connection anyone named Sugarman had with the doughnut empire. But just then I got switched to the spokesman himself.

"Have the pyramid clubs affected the sale of Doughnuts?" he chirped happily. "Why, wherever the craze hits it doubles the doughnut business. It lasts a week or ten days in most places, and the sale of doughnuts goes up a hundred per cent.

"One chain of 28 doughnut shops has sold more than 500,000 extra doughnuts.

"I talked to some coffee people, too. They say their business is up but, not as much as ours."

There are no reports available as to the impact of pyramid club parties on the aspirin market — although certainly all the hangovers weren't financial.

Word of this latest American investment fad swept quickly around the world. There was no great reaction in Egypt, where the pyramids have held buried hopes for a long time. British newspapers expressed a polite interest. But the sons of John Bull have been slow to take it up — either through a shortage of dollars and doughnuts or a surplus of common sense.

Here in the United States the pyramid club mania has bounced around like a haphazard tornado. It swept eastward from California, where people used to have to dig to find gold.

It hit hardest in the cities. Police in Columbus, O., estimated it was a $1,000,000 merry-go-round there for two weeks. Here in Manhattan the quick-money virus wore itself out in a few busy days. Some bosses had to break up office pyramid club parties in order to get the work done.

Many who joined the clubs ang got stung for a buck regard their loss as a harmless adventure. But police don't feel it was all innocent. They think a number of east operators capitalized on the craze and turned it into a racket in some places. Such operators go in fustest — and out with the mostest. And the entry fee wasn't always just a dollar.

The pyramid club hysteria is still spreading in smaller towns and cities. Last week it was rampant in parts of Florida. I mentioned this to a cynic with in fading Miami suntan and he observed:

"I don't think pyramid clubs will ever really take the place of tourists in Florida."

Well, there is no nonsense like American nonsense. And this week offers a wonderful opportunity for all who want to go pyramid clubbing.

It is national doughnut week.

$43,000 Already Pledged In City

Open Jewish Relief Drive

Although it opened only last night, a drive for $75,000 in Jewish relief funds today had already produced more than $43,000 in pledges.

More than half of the campaign goal was pledged last night at a dinner meeting of campaign workers and others interested in the movement. Thirty-two persons attended the rally at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Nathan Lifson, treasurer and Ben Shaffer, president, of the Dominion Electric company, pledged more than $26,000. Lifson and Shaffer were elected co-chairmen of, the campaign. Leonard Goler was named vice chairman.

The $75,000 goal represents Mansfield's share of the $250,000,000 needed to empty DP camps in Europe and 250,000 Jewish people to the new state of Israel, Lifson said.

Robert J. Rosthal, who headed last year's research staff on the Palestine situation and revision of the United Nations charter, was the guest speaker. Rosthal discussed the Palestine situation and the need for funds for Jewish relief.

Rosthal began working on the Jewish problem 12 years ago when he traveled through Nazi Germany negotiating with the Nazis for the release of Jews from concentration camps to Palestine and the United States.

VISITED PALESTINE

Several years ago he visited Palestine to advise on development needs of areas set aside for the colonization and integration of Jewish refugees.

He served as provost marshal of Panay, Philippine Islands, after the war ended, and as a United States representative on a commission advising the president-elect of the Philippines on agrarian reform, resettlement problems, and possible development of new farm areas.

The campaign funds also will be used to receive a large number of refugees into the United States, for relief and reconstruction in Jewish communities in Europe,for aid to a large section of the one million Jews in North Africa, and for a housing program, agricultural settlements, and irrigation in Israel, Lifson said.

A general meeting for both men and women and Mansfielders interested in the project, will be held at Temple Emanuel on May 15. A third meeting has been scheduled for May 23. This will be a luncheon to open the campaign for the women's division. Mrs. Lifson will head this division assisted by Mrs. Al Gordon and Mrs. Leonard Goler.

Police Probe Two Thefts

Ransacking of a Wayne street home where thieves broke open a piggy bank to get $3 in change and theft of autot accessories from a car parked on East Third street were investigated by police today.

Dominic Fillutzy, 430 Wayne street, reported to police last night that he returned home yesterday to find the house generally ransacked and change from a piggy bank gone. He said no one had occupied the house since April 21.

Police said a neighbor who occupies the upper half of the house said he heard a disturbance late Saturday nite in the downstairs but that he didn't investigate.

Arthur L. Goettl, 33½ East Third street, told police two fender skirts had been stolen from his car while it was parked on East Third near North Franklin avenue sometime Sunday night. The accessories were valued at $25.

School Children Aid Clean-up Drive

Mansfield grade-school children will be given two clean-up inspection blanks tomorrow as they leave school for a contest during "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up, and Control Rats" week, which begins Sunday.

The children will give one blank to their parents and one to a neighbor who has no children of grade-school age.

The clean-up blank lists 46 items in and around the home that should be either cleaned-up, fixed-up, or painted. The children will return this blank to their schools. The blanks then will be forwarded to the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce where a tabulation will be made to determine the effectiveness of the clean-up week.

Sponsored jointly by the Mansfield Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce, "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up, and "Control Rats" week will be publicized through motion pictures, stores, schools, and churches.

Dr. Harry Wain, Mansfield-Richland county health director, is working with the Jay-Cees in their program of rat eradication.

The May bulletin of the city-county health department, "Your Health," points out the devatating cost and danger of harboring rates in the home or place of business.

Rats cost Mansfield $100,000 a year in food they destroy, besides the eight diseases they regularly spread, the bulletin says.

Mansfield industrial concerns received their clean-up check lists yesterday. They were asked to clean-up their plants for beauty's sake and to check safety features in the plant such as painted aisles and signs, and to check all fire fighting equipment.

Bellville Man Denies Guilt

Clarence Lape, Bellville, R. D. 2, pleaded innocent in municipal court today to a charge of malicious destruction of property at a Bellville tavern. Hearing was continued to Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. Bond was set at $100.

Sheriff's deputies said Lape is charged with destroying a cradle telephone on April 2 at the Ide Myers tavern in Bellville. The telephone was valued at $7.74.

Meanwhile, deputies prepared to draw up charges against a 24-year-old Penceville, Ky., man, believed to have taken a topcoat, a pen set and $13 in cash from the home of W. P. Cole, Lexington, R. D. 1.

Woman Files Appeal From Eviction

A Lucas woman who was ousted from church-owned property in Mansfield filed an appeal from a municipal court decision in common pleas court yesterday.

Mrs. Gladys Campbell was evicted by an order of Judge H. H. Schettler's court. She did not reside in the 196 West Third street house, but sub-let furnished rooms in the seven-room building to four families. The First Christian church owns the house.

Judge Schettler ruled the housing was not under control by the federal rent law because the defendant was not using the premise in question for living or dwelling purposes but as a business for profit.

The church has made an offer of $225 for the seven-rooms of furniture in the dwelling. Mrs. Campbell refused the offer.

County, District Near Agreement

The Muskingum Conservancy district today proposed improvement of the Covert road in southeast Richland county to open a route to the proposed Pleasant Hill park.

The road leads from the new State Route 95 to the St. John's cemetery in the park area and to the boat docks on Pleasant Hill reservoir.

County Engineer Walter E. Rusk had offered the plan in order to offset objections to the vacating of the Trumpower and Harrod roads in the proposed park area. Property owners and cemetery trustees had objected to vacating the roads.

Richland and Ashland county commissioners in a joint meeting last summer, turned down the petitions of the district, calling for vacating of the Trumpower and Harrod roads.

The conservancy district desires to set up a public park in the Pleasant Hill area, but won't proceed until the public roads have been abandoned. J. S. Gena, chief engineer for the district, said it is against recommendations of park authorities to have public roads transversing a public park area.

The Covert access road would permit flow of traffic to the cemetery and the boat docks, and would eliminate officials' objections to the vacating of the Harrod and Trumpower roads, Rusk's letter said.

Rusk said the proposal was suggested by the county commissioners, who, according to the letter, "are now disposed toward proceeding as you originally requested."

Gena told The News-Journal today that the Covert access road could not be completed until after the new Route 95 was completed. Completion date has been set for fall.

He added that if the proposal works itself out, the board is of the opinion that it will go ahead with the 250-acre park next spring. Gena said the park could later be increased to as much as 350 acres if necessary.

Plans call for putting in docks and a beach area. Later, cabins and bath houses would be built, if the road vacations are approved.

A large parking lot for the park would be built across old Route 95, east of the docks, Gena added, and that could not be done until that road is abandoned.

Property Tax Receipts Up

A 14 per cent increase in the personal property tax collection for the first half of the year was announced today by County treasurer Charles C. Payne.

A total of $371,436 was collected, an increase of $52,987 over the first-half of 1948. Of the total there was $222,951 collected in general personal property taxes, compared with $180,168 for the first half of 1948, and $148,485 in classified, compared with $138,432 for the first-half of last year.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe explained the increase in the general personal property tax collection was due to a slight increase in the tax rate, mostly due to the TB bonds, the installation of new equipment, and an increase in population and businesses in the county.

The larger classified personal property tax collection resulted from increased stock dividends on which the tax is paid, and from an increase in the number of taxpayers.

Ol' Rip Sewell Continues 'Killing' Cubs

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Only one person ever has sent two horses to the Kentucky Derby and hit the jackpot both times, but a front-running colt called Olympia put Contractor Fred W. Hooper in position today to go two-for-two in the run for the roses.

Mrs. John D. Hertz, wife of the Chicago taxicab tycoon, pulled the derby's first and only double when she picked up the marbles with Reigh Count in 1928 and with Count Fleet in 1943. They were the only two she ever started, and both came through for her.

NOW HOOPER, who commutes between homes in Alabama and Florida, looks like he might turn the trick. The first horse he bought, Hoop Jr., did it for him in 1945. And he'll be making his second attempt on May 7—with his Olympia installed as the favorite.

There is a close parallel between the cases of Mrs. Hertz and Hooper, almost as if they were destined by similarity to write derby history while other veteran horsemen strive in vain all their lives to win the big race just once.

Mrs. Hertz bought Reigh Count for a mere $12,500, a bargain as top race horses go. Then, she raised Count Fleet herself, and didn't want him.

It is part of the history of horse highway that some astute buyer could have purchased the Count for a mere $450. He was an awkward, hammer headed yearling, however, and nobody wanted him. So, in desperation, Mrs. Hertz sent him to trainer Don Cameron. The Count did the rest.

HOOPER BOUGHT his first derby winner, Hoop Jr., and got a better bargain than did Mrs. Hertz. He paid only $10,200 at the Lexington yearling sales in 1943. Now he has raised Olympia himself and, following the colt's stretch victory over Palestinian in Saturday's Wood Memorial, Hooper may have duplicated Mrs. Hertz's two-for-two performance.

His trainer, Ivan Parke, a former jockey, bred the son of Heliopolis—Miss Dolphin. The one-time race rider from Idaho had ridden Olymia's dam to four track records back in the old days and so he was confident that her son would be a good one.

Three No-Hit Games Pitched By Youngsters

No-hit games were the order of the day in the Grade School softball league yesterday as no fewer than three were tossed by the junior-sized moundsmen.

Kermit Wilson of Rebecca Grubaugh tossed one of the no-hitters to beat Newman, 1-0, in the best game of the day at Simpson field. Brinkerhoff's all-around ace, Larry Zartman, got one in winning 1-0 over Prospect and little Chuck Cicolani hurled a no-hitter for Bowman reserves to beat West Fifth, 6-0.

Zartman faced 13 men in his game, striking out 11 and walking one.

Yanks Take More Lead In American

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Truett (Rip) Sewell, the old Cub killer from 'way back, is showing signs of "slipping" at last.

The 40-year-old "blooper" expert of the Pittsburgh Pirates actually allowed the Cubs two runs last night in pitching the Bucs to an 8-2 victory over his "cousins" from the Windy City. If Ol' Rip doesn't watch out, those big, bad Bruins are liable to win a game from him before the season is over.

SECOND STRAIGHT

Sewell was tapped for 10 hits, but was effective in the clutches to register his second straight triumph over the Cubs this year, and his ninth against only one loss over a two-season stretch. He shut out the Cubs 1-0 in the season's opener last week.

Sewell's lifetime record against the Bruins is phenomenal. He has whipped them 35 times in 54 decisions for better than 25 percent of his overall 139 triumphs. No other big league pitcher can boast such mastery over a rival club.

The victory put the Pirates into a three-way tie for second place with Brooklyn and Boston, and a half-game behind the National league pace-setting New York Giants. The Cubs dropped into seventh place.

The Giants continued their winning ways, defeating the Phillies in Philadelphia, 6-3, for their fourth straight victory. Clint Hartung allowed nine hits in registering his second triumph.

Bill Voiselle, tall Braves' right-hander, knocked the Dodgers out of first place and into a triple tie for second by shutting out Brooklyn, 3-0. Jim Russell drove in Boston's first two runs with a third inning single and Earl Torgeson homered in the fifth.

YANKS AND SOX

It was a big day for New York and Boston for the Yankees and Red Sox in the American league also won. The Bronx Bombers, aided by a pair of costly miscues by Philadelphia Shortstop Eddie Joost, nipped the Athletics, 3-2, at the Yankee stadium to increase their league lead to a full game over Chicago's White Sox. Vic Raschi, who shut out Washington last week, yielded six hits, the same number the Yankees got off loser Joe Coleman.

Mel Parnell, young Red Sox southpaw, hung up his second successive shutout success, with a 2-0 triumph over the Washington Senators. He allowed only seven hits to the Nats who have now lost seven in a row since winning the season's opener.

The St. Louis Cardinals routed their old jinx, Ken Raffensberger, with a four run blast in the second inning and went on to whip the Cincinnati Reds, 9-3, in a night game in St. Louis.

Rain washed out the scheduled game between the Chicago White Sox and Detroit's Tigers. Cleveland and the St. Louis Browns were not scheduled.

Minneapolis Men Purchase Control Of Sports Arena

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Three Minneapolis millionaires are new owners of the $1,500,000 arena and the Cleveland Barons hockey club which is the indoor sports center's chief attraction.

Ohio-Indiana Ball League Opens '49 Slate Tonight

By FRITZ HOWELL, Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—The Ohio-Indiana baseball league launches its "anything can happen" pennant campaign tonight.

Zanesville, winner of the flag the last two seasons and playoff victor four straight years, has shifted from a Brooklyn Dodger working agreement to ownership by the Cleveland Indians.

Perhaps that shift had nothing to do with it, but the loop's sports writers in a pre-season poll relegated the Zanesville club to finish around fourth place this time.

ALL UNDER LIGHTS

All the openers will be staged under the floodlights, as usual. League President Frank M. Colley will be on hand for the Zanesville-at-Portsmouth event. Among his guests will be Gov. Frank J. Lausche, minor league Promotional Director Bob Finch, and American Legion junior baseball Director Dale Miller of Indianapolis.

Second openers are booked next Sunday when today's visiting clubs return home. The May 1 lid-lifters find Springfield at Marion, Portsmouth at Lima, Richmond at Newark and Muncie at Zanesville. The Richmond-Newark fray will have George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, as its No. 1 guest.

President Colley envisioned a tough scrap for the pennant, although admitting the race could not be much closer than the 1948 affair when Zanesville finished a half game ahead of Portsmouth. He said he thought each of the teams was in better shape than for last year's openers, even Richmond and Lima which will operate without big league affiliations.

Portsmouth is owned by the Philadelphia Athletics and Muncie by the Cincinnati Reds. Marion, last year affiliated with the Chicago Cubs, has shifted to the Boston Red Sox. Springfield has a working agreement with the New York Giants, and Newark with the New York Yankees.

Lexington 9 Knocked Out Of Tourney

Because only six Richland county schools fielded baseball teams this spring, Lexington high today lost its right to participate in the district tournament at Sandusky.

Howard L. Hofacre, Lexington superintendent, revealed today that he had been informed that only one team from the county could participate since less than eight schools are playing the sport. Shiloh won the county title last fall with Lexington runner-up.

Two teams from the county entered the district last year and for this reason, Lexington coach Don Sutter passed up the opportunity to work on a track team in order to get his ball team in shape for the tournament.

Sutter now plans to concentrate on track in preparation for the county meet here May 7 and the district May 21. Lexington will meet Johnny Appleseed May 16 at Stadium field.

Lemon Fights Two Battles Today In Browns Game

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Bob Lemon, the converted infielder-outfielder, will be fighting two battles when he steps to the mound for the Cleveland Indians today.

The St. Louis Browns, who are a half-game out of the American league cellar, will furnish the competition, but Lemon isn't too worried about the boys from Missouri.

"I just hope the law of averages doesn't catch up with me," the tall Californian said. "I've beaten the Browns 12 times and lost only once in three years, but I don't know how long that can go on.

"It seems that the boys always hit for me when we play St Louis I've had good breaks so far and I hope I keep on getting them."

Sport Headliners Open Race Track

Dutch Bader Fans 16 In Winning Third Tilt, 11 to 6

Ram Pitcher Allows Only Two Hits, Both For One

SHILOH—Dutch Bader continued his mastery over area high school batters yesterday as he led Madison high school to an 11-0 victory over Shiloh's Richland county champions.

Bader allowed only two singles and struck out 16 Shiloh batters in going the route for his third victory. Eight of the strikeout victims were in succession in the second, third and fourth innings.

GAME SET LATE

The game was scheduled at noon yesterday when the two teams sought to take advantage of good weather. It was Madison's third victory against two defeats, all of the games having been won or lost by Bader.

The Rams will entertain Lucas, one of their earlier victims at 3:30 p. m. today at Blue Goose diamond.

Shortstop Norm Hughes was the big surprise yesterday as he broke out in a rash of three hits to drive in four runs. The game was a scoreless pitchers' battle until the sixth inning when Madison got to Pitcher Carl Wallace for six runs. Five more were added in the seventh including a home run with two on by the hard-hitting Bader.

Left fielder Jack Bosh missed the game after misjudging a fly ball in practice and being hit in the eye. A Mansfield physician diagnosed the injury as a hemorrhage of the cornea.

Night Holstein Sale

Friday, April 29, 1949

Starting Promptly at 7 P.M.

Selling 100 Cows
80 Head Registered
20 Grades, Young and Sound
Some Nice Heifer
Calves

Unless you make money on these cows, we will not stay in the sale business. We try to pick the kind you will like—strong, milky-looking cows that are young and have years of production ahead of them. And we don't neglect type, in selecting our sale cattle. Many of the cows going through the ring in 1948 had been classified for type in Canada. Many had good records, explained fully at the ringside. Some of our better breeders in northern Ohio have strengthened their herds with purchases from our auctions.

We are especially proud of our records in making the buyer satisfied. We sell the cattle to be as represented. Ask our many satisfied customers, and come to the April sale!

TB, Bang and Masters tested within 30 days. Most of the heifers have been calfhood vaccinated.

WHY NOT BUY WHERE YOU ABSOLUTELY KNOW
YOU WILL GET A SQUARE DEAL?

Nice Lot of Heifer Calves

And these calves are sold with an absolute guarantee to live two weeks from date of purchase. Many sired by popular bulls of Canada.

Location of Sale

The sale will be held in a comfortable building, with good lights, located 2½ miles south of Medina, Ohio, on State Route 162, one mile west of Route 3, or two miles east of Lafayette and Route 42, on 162

Hearing at Galion Plant Concluded

North Electric Issue Left to NLRB

GALION — The National Labor Relations Board hearing to pave the way for a consent election at the North Electric Manufacturing company here closed yesterday at City hall. The hearing first opened April 12 and was resumed and concluded yesterday.

Its purpose was to determine a bargaining agent through a consent election. Monday's investigation, in charge of the hearing officer, Philip Fusco, Cleveland NLRB man, had to do with determining which employes were eligible to vote in the company's plants at Galion, Mt. Gilead and Upper Sandusky.

The United Auto Workers (CIO) union, represented by Lowell Goerlich, Toledo attorney, would exclude certain office classification in the engineering department while the Independent Workers union would like this group included.

The UAW would like separate elections at the plants while the Independent unit and the management prefer a multi - plant election. The three parties concerned-the two unions and the company-agree that watchmen and guards and most office clerical employes be excluded from voting. Both unions and the company stipulated all production and maintenance employes, excluding supervisors take part in the election.

H. G. Burns, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of the company, was the only witness called at both the April 12 and yesterday's hearings. Some 30 women employes of the Upper Sandusky and Mt. Gilead plants were present for the hearing yesterday.

Hearing Officer Fusco said the filing of briefs must be within seven days at the conclusion of yesterday's hearing.

Sponsor of the event, which is open to the general public, will be the Mansfield Exchange club. The idea grew out of a highly successful club hoe-down held several months ago at the Mohican sailing club.

Exchangeite Esley Cleckner will "call" the dances. Tickets are available from club members. All proceeds will go to the club's hearing conservation program which recently purchased an audiometer for the city-county health department to use in testing the hearing of school children.

Trash Fire, Out of Control, Destroys Four-Car Garage

A four-car garage at the home of Arthur L. Queen, 166 Lexington avenue was destroyed when a trash fire got out of control at 10 a. m. today.

Firemen from Central, No. 3 and No. 5 stations answered the alarm, but were unable to save the wooden structure or any of its contents.

Burned along with the garage was some household furniture that was stored there by Mr. and Mrs. Queen. There were no cars in the garage.

Mrs. Queen said the building was being remodeled into a two-car garage when a trash fire built by workers ignited the structure.

No estimate of the damage was made.

Attention Turns To Shanghai

SHANGHAI has been called the "Pearl of the Orient" and the "Chicago of the Far East." Neither of these names is merely fanciful. The city is one of the very great commercial seaports of the world. And in a few days, perhaps a few hours, maybe even by the time this reaches print, prosperous, busy Shanghai will be in the clutches of Moscow.

The Chinese reds are expected to take the city without a struggle—just as they took Nanking. And the fall of Shanghai will give the communist half of the world one of the things it has notably lacked, a warm water port on major sea lanes.

The Kremlin can indeed rejoice. And the democratic portion of the world might as well admit it has suffered a severe defeat.

Of course, it's a long way from the China coast to Russia's industrial areas, and transportation facilities are poor. But the Russians can be expected to bleed the port of its wealth. They CANNOT be expected to keep the pledge they made in Nanking, and may repeat in Shanghai, to let Chinese and foreign interests retain their property except as a temporary, false front gesture.

The news from China is bad. There is no use attempting to gloss it over.

Two Views On Pyramid Clubs

WHILE Mansfield and Richland county officials seem to regard Pyramid clubs as just "good fun," the Ashland chief of police and the Ashland county prosecutor have an idea that the Pyramid racket is illegal and have warned that participants are subject to prosecution under state anti-gambling laws.

Be that as it may, Mansfielders are unlikely to become deeply disturbed over the Pyramid club craze that has belatedly invaded this city, while much more offensive types of commercialized gambling are permitted to operate without police interference.

Illustrative of present wide-open administrative policies in regard to tolerance of illegal gambling places is yesterday's News-Journal story of a lively Saturday night crap game extending into Sunday morning, in an easily found central location which could scarcely have escaped being known about by any alert patrolman.

It is frequently said that the people of a community get the kind of local government the majority wants—so it may be assumed that a majority of Mansfielders prefer a "wide-open town" . . . or is it merely that an active minority, representing the gambling interests, is more influential in determining administration policies than a lethargic majority?

Advantages In Fresh Approach

THE CHOICE of Vice-Admiral Alan G. Kirk to be ambassador to Moscow has emphasized the fresh approach the United States is prepared to make to relations with Russia.

It has been suggested that one of Admiral Kirk's most valuable qualifications for the post is the fact that he has had no previous dealings with Russian leaders in unpleasant situations. Thus he can go to Moscow to make new contacts, free from the rankling of past irritations, with a fresh mental attitude and a full stock of patience.

The choice calls attention to an advantage which the United States has, in the long run, in difficult negotiations with a totalitarian government such as that of Russia. We are able to send fresh leaders into the negotiations at will, because of the nature of our government contemplates change from time to time, without loss of prestige for anyone.

The nature of our government also made it possible for the previous ambassador, Lieut. Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, to request relief from the job when he thought it wise to do so, without any loss of dignity or standing.

Such things are not possible for the government of Russia. It depends on continuity of policies and leaders. To change an official, except to promote him to a more exalted post, is to indicate that he has been wrong, and it is a dangerous thing to be wrong in a totalitarian regime. In such an atmosphere it is unthinkable that an official request his withdrawal from a post which is overtaxing his endurance, or where he cannot act according to his own convictions.

Paul Revere's Claim To Fame

SPEAKING recently in observance of the 173rd anniversary of the journey made famous by Longfellow in his poem, "Paul Revere's Ride", a direct descendant of the rider, bearing the same name, declared that the ride had been over-emphasized.

Aside from the fact that his progenitor was only one of three who rode to warn the countryside of the onset of the British, the current Paul Revere set forth the earlier Paul's other claims to fame. He was this country's first coppersmith, and one of its first silversmiths. The form and quality of his silverware has given it priceless value from an artistic standpoint.

Mr. Revere is wasting his breath in playing down the famous ride. There is plenty of concrete evidence as to his great-great-grandfather's solid and worth-while achievements. His greatest fame will always be, however, as the daring rider, flying through the night, rousing his countrymen to their danger. Longfellow has immortalized Paul Revere as the messenger of liberty.

Does gum chewing help typists to work? One Detroit company, says Dr. Leo H. Bartemeier of that city, found that its typists were 17 per cent more efficient when they chewed gum. Nothing is said about the effect of this habit on others who dislike gum, particularly when they have to scrape it off their shoes.

Time To Debate Aims

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — The United States Senate could, and should, become the forum for a careful analytical review of our whole foreign policy when it begins to consider the Atlantic Pact in the near future.

It is the logical time to take stock, for this military alliance with Western Europe is a departure for us. It is certainly, too, not the place at which we expected to arrive when we looked forward from creation of the United Nations at San Francisco only four years ago. It would be wise to try to find out how we got where we are today as a possible help in going on from here.

It represents a backward step from the United Nations into outmoded concepts of armed alliances which so many of us thought had been shattered by the second World war in our generation, only to find ourselves deluded after so short a time.

The debate on the Atlantic Pact offers a splendid opportunity to talk about strengthening the United Nations into a real world government, which was the original objective, instead of weakening it by a secession movement such as the Atlantic Pact.

At best, the U.N. was comparable to the Articles of Confederation of our American Revolution era.

While that loose confederation, which lacked essential authority, somehow carried us through the Revolution it had to be transformed into a strong federal union only six years thereafter when we ran into the problems of self-government as an independent nation—such problems as the world, itself, faces today and on not much larger or different scale, for the air and radio connected world today is much smaller than our stagecoach and ox-cart colonies were then.

* * *

Boldness Needed Again.

CYNICS here and the world over looked with unconcealed skepticism upon the group of men who gathered at Philadelphia to write a Constitution that would bind together such diverse elements, refusing to believe that men, however able and skillful and earnest, could be so bold and original. Such boldness is needed today, nor is it too much to ask.

Twice since the first World war our Senate has initiated movements for international peace and concord—first in the 1922 arms limitation conference here in Washington, which it proposed to the president in a rider on a naval appropriation bill; second in the 1933 world economic conference in London, which it recommended by resolution.

If each had succeeded as fully as it might, much that has happened since might not have happened. But in both instances American idealism and leadership expressed themselves, as they could again.

By the time the Senate begins to consider the Atlantic Pact it is expected to have before it a resolution sponsored by a number of senators and House members beseeching President Truman to call a constitutional convention of the nations of the world to establish a real World Federation.

The public pressure behind this movement is indicated by adoption of similar resolutions by a number of state legislatures.

Such a resolution offers the opportunity for Congress to take the initiative again.

Debate on the Atlantic Pact would be a good time, too, to take another look at our war aim to promote democracy elsewhere which, upon examination, we would find slightly tarnished here and there, notably in Germany.

Frankly Speaking

Labor Law Views Vary

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — The long-delayed debate in Congress on a new labor law starts today in the House.

After the House finishes, the Senate tackles the problem. So it may be many weeks before we finally have a new labor law.

The House faces two problems in making a decision, and so will the Senate:

1. Should the Taft-Hartley Act, passed in 1947, be wiped out and replaced by the old Wagner Act, passed in 1935, with some slight changes?

2. Or, should the Taft-Hartley Act be kept pretty much as it is, with some slight changes?

The House has two bills before it:

1. The Lesinski bill. This bears the name of Rep. Lesinski, Michigan Democrat, this is the bill favored by President Truman and organized labor.

It would knock out the T-H Act and, with a few changes, restore the old Wagner Act which was the law from 1935 to 1947.

2. The Wood bill. This is sponsored by Rep. Wood, Georgia Democrat. It is backed by the Republican leaders in the House and a group of southern Democrats.

The Wood bill says it would repeal the T-H Act but it is pretty much like the T-H Act in many ways. Organized labor says it is the T-H Act under another name.

* * *

Will Require Time.

BECAUSE House members can tack amendments, or changes, on the labor bill right on the floor of the House, no one can predict what the bill, as finally passed by the House, will look like.

House action, although debate is limited in the House, probably will use up this whole week.

Then it may be weeks before the Senate acts. And, since Senate debate is unlimited, it may be more weeks before the Senate finally decides what kind of labor bill it wants.

So, the bills passed by House and Senate probably will be different. If they are, both houses will have to agree on a single bill acceptable to both.

Even then the bill can't become law unless Mr. Truman signs it or, if he vetoes it, both houses re-pass it over his veto with a two-thirds vote.

And, just as no one can say what kind of bill Congress will pass, no one can say what Mr. Truman will do if he doesn't like the bill.

China's Story Is Great Human Tragedy

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — If and when the state department opens its secret files on China, they will reveal one of the great human tragedies of post-war reconstruction.

The files will also tell a story that will make this nation think twice about pouring more U. S. dollars down the yawning maw of China.

The diplomatic files show that, with most of China's 400,000,000 people in desperate need, the Chinese Nationalist hierarchy insisted on controlling supplies, and even discouraged U. S. purchases by other Chinese.

Powerful in this hierarchy were T. V. Soong and M. H. Kung, both borthers-in-law of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Both are also among the wealthiest men in China or the world, and there is little evidence that they have dipped into their own pockets to help their fellow citizens.

The state department's files, so far unpublished, show that at exactly the same time the Chinese government was pleading for more ships to import relief supplies, the Chinese government's board of supply, of which T. V. Soong was chairman, was actually stopping the delivery and sale of U. S. merchant ships.

Reason: The ships had been purchased from the USA by private firms, thus cutting out any profit for Soong's board of supply.

This caused the U. S. foreign liquidation commission, operating under the state department, to make the following official protest:

"We have had complaints from several prospective purchasers of maritime property that they are unable to obtain permission from the board of supply to purchase vessels from our Manila office.

"In conference with us on 19 September of 1946, it was agreed that private shipping concerns in China would be permitted to purchase vessels in Manila. . . Several interested parties, whom we have notified of this arrangement, have informed us after contacting the board of supply that your organization will not issue certificates but require that all vessels be purchased from the board of supply."

* * *

Says He's a Gambler.

THIS letter of protest was sent direct to Soong's representative, General P. Kiang. However he did nothing about it. At a round-table conference between Chinese and American officials, therefore, the state department raised the matter again.

The minutes of that meeting are still secret. However, they state:

"The question of the Chinese restriction on ship purchases was next brought up by Mr. Stetson (J. B. Stetson of Stetson hats, then FLC field commissioner). He explained that part of our project was to help the economy of China and that individual buyers who wanted to bring in ships should be allowed to do so.

"General Kiang (Soong's agent) explained. . .if there is to beany ship brokerage business done, the Chinese government wants to do it. . .'I am your exclusive agent for China,' he said.

Meanwhile, Soong's board of supply offered to purchase the ships for private companies at the black-market rate and for an additional 5 per cent "handling fee." In other words, the Chinese government was offering to deal on the same black market it had declared illegal.

The situation became steadily worse until Monnet Davis, U. S. consul-general in Shanghai, advised the secretary of state in a secret cable:

"Executive Yuan of Chinese government has placed ban on importatio of 'American Army surplus goods.'. . .Ban imposed to prevent purchase of surplus goods by private firms in competition with the government. . . ."

Note — After one conference between T. V. Soong and FLC field commissioner B. A. Johnson, the American official wrote in his confidential report: "Dr. Soong then told me that he had been a gambler all his life, but in this deal (Surplus property) he was handling very heavy and important money. He was inclined to gamble because the chances to be derived by China from surplus property judiciously bought and correctly sold should be enormous."

Swiss Kilroy Club.

ONE MAN who pays great tribute to the American GI is Florian Niederer, known as the man who guided 300,000 GI's through Switzerland.

After V-E day, with several million GI's restless in Europe, Niederer, who is an executive of the Swiss tourist office, conceived the idea of helping the American Army travel through Switzerland, and as a result one-third of a million GI's visited the Alps at the rate of $5 a day.

"They were universally well-behaved," says Niederer. "We had misbehavior reported only in a very few cases."

Niederer is now in the USA organizing the "Swiss Kilroy Club" on the theory that a GI who visited Switzerland once, would like to go back with his bride. A lot of them, he finds, do. So Switzerland has become the country labeled "Kilroy Was There."

Enthusiastic Dr. Bunche

By INEZ ROBB

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — Brooklyn Dodger fans are a strange, consecrated crew, and about the only thing you can say for them is that they are different and rugged.

They run the gamut from Louis the Lug, who never even got to the Three R's, the Dr. Ralph Bunche, who has enough high class erudition for the whole Yale class of '49.

Dr. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator for Palestine who wrought the historic armistice in the Holy Land, is a Dodger fan.

He is an active member of this daffy fraternity, and said so in a good loud voice when I talked with him in his office at United Nations headquarters.

Furthermore, this Harvard Ph. D. (with additional graduate work at the London school of economics and the University of Capetown) intends to spend a large part of his long overdue leave at Ebbets Field, home of the brave and the Bums.

"Ebbets Field is the only place in the world where you can really enjoy a ball game," Dr. Bunche opined in the manner of a connoisseur discussing art or wines.

So when the Israeli-Syrian armistice is finally signed, the event on which hangs his long-delayed vacation, Dr. Bunche is going off to Ebbets Field for a baseball jag.

As this American diplomat, whose brilliant handling of the delicate Palestine problem made him an international figure almost overnight, discussed his vacation plans, he looked well in need of rest.

It has been a decade since he has had a real vacation, and almost two years since he has been home for more than a few days at a time. He has been wrestling with the Palestine problem since the United Nations sent him there in June, 1947. Then, seven months ago, the full burden of the armistice negotiations fell on him when Count Folke Bernadotte was assassinated and Dr. Bunche became acting U. N. mediator in Palestine.

* * *

An Overdue Vacation.

WHEN I saw Dr. Bunche, he was rushed with conferences and reports. A constant stream of officials crowded his little office. Everybody beamed on him and everyone called him "Ralph." One man opened the door and said:

"I just want to get a good look at you, boy." He looked for thirty seconds, seemed content that the mediator was back from the troubled Near East in one piece, closed the door and went away.

Yet rushed as he was, Dr. Bunche leaned back in his chair, relaxed and unhurried as he discussed dem Bums and his overpowering yen to go fishing. At 44, Dr. Bunche is a handsome man of medium height, with a tendency to take on weight and little time in which to do anything constructive about it.

"Deliver me from a planned vacation!" he said. "I want to live in complete anarchy for a while. I want to go to ball games, and I want to go fishing and I want to see a lot of shows."

And for this man, who has travelled all over the world most of his adult life, a chance to stay home is his idea of the ideal vacation.

Dr. Bunche wears his international prestige lightly. When I read aloud an article which described him as "one of the world's greatest men," this grandson of a slave and son of a barber, would have none of it.

"That is what you call editorial license," Dr. Bunche said with a grin. He gives the United Nations all the credit for the armistice in the Holy Land, without a single bow for himself.

I pointed out that the nation had tremendous confidence in his abilities and that it would be very nice if he would kindly settle the cold war.

But Dr. Bunche was not to be caught off diplomatic base. As he lighted another cigaret in the endless chain he smokes, the doctor smiled broadly and said:

"No comment."

As Cerf Tells It

In Rochester, N. Y., a gentleman named Flannigan was picked up by the police on two successive Saturdays and charged with intoxication. Judge Michael Rogers was lenient the first time, but gave him a 120-day jail sentence the second. The local headline for the story was, "Patrick Flannigan Has Switched to Water."

Farmer's Diary

'Beau James,' Playboy

By CALVIN A. BYERS

HERE is a book such as farmers seldom read—the biography of New York City's one hundredth mayor, "play-boy" James J. (Jimmy) Walker, written by his friend, Gene Fowler. (Viking Press $4)

I have read it carefully, because I think it is a good thing to read something occasionally that shakes the mind out of the customary rut—or furrow—and then paragraphs are short, and there is plenty of conversation, which at first glance makes any book appear more interesting.

Off hand, I would say it's a book for politicians, chronologists, psychologists, and New Yorkers . . . none of which I am. Yet I am not sorry for spending time with it, although some of it is sordid, much is tawdry with tinsel and glitter, and the final effect is one of intense pathos.

Literary-minded readers will appreciate such bits of description as the following: "The lights of the street set up their garish borealis and turned the pavement into fool's gold."

"He was Broadway's pawnbroker and fence, and he stood at night in doorways, where the shadows turned his face into a slate-gray spider-gray blob with a web of intruding light spun about him. . . .a gray rat, waitir for his cheese."

"Now Jim would be lifted up, then cast down; he would be harried and torn apart, and would know the passionate struggle which besets a man whenever autumnal love moves like a belated cyclone across the prairies of masculine peace."

Born in a flat at No. 110 Leroy street, between Hudson and Greenwich, June 19, 1881, James John Walker spent his entire life as a frail, wise-cracking actor who loved New York City and was, in turn, beloved as "the gay child of the century . . .who best typified the heart of the greatest city of the Western world."

Twice married, he was twice divorced. His political and public career became badly muddled by his preoccupation with wine, wit, women and song. After public investigation of his record had been held, he resigned the mayorship of New York and went to Europe where he stayed until after Treasury officials decided that they had no case against him for income tax evasion.

In November, 1946, he died of a brain ailment. "From Walker's room the prayers of four men, representing as many creeds, went up to one God: the supplications of a Roman Catholic priest, a Jewish Rabbi, a Presbyterian minister and a Christion Scientist."

All his life, Jimmy Walker was late to his appointments. "There had been several minutes delay in bringing Jim's hearse through the traffic to the church. A middle-aged police officer, looking in on the choir boys in their robing room, said "Our little Jimmy is late again!"

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

A NEW YORK man is suing for divorce because he came home unexpectedly and found two chops broiling and he has only one wife.

* * *

He will build his case on the theory that no woman would buy two chops for her own husband at the present price of meat.

* * *

Particularly when she expects his teeth to be in another state at dinner time.

* * *

But it will be up to the court to decide whether she was extra-marital or extra-hungry.

* * *

It's reminiscent of the case of the man who asked a divorce from his wife because she made him eat upside down cake every day.

* * *

The court said "What's wrong with upside down cake?" and the man said "nothing but she makes me eat it upside down."

ODD FACT

Owls fly around without making sound because they have wings with softened margins.

2. Can you name the first five books of the Old Testament?

3. What country began the work on the Panama canal?

Words of Wisdom.

From labor there shall come forth rest—Longfellow.

Answers to Test.

1. William Henry Harrison (1773-1841) was the grandfather of Benjamin Harrison (1833-1901).

2. Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy.

3. France, in 1881.

Timely Editorial

Pravda's Slipping.

The Moscow daily, Pravda, charges that the "American imperialists" are sending intelligence agents to Mt. Ararat near the Turkish-Soviet frontier, under the disguise of archaeologists looking for Noah's Ark.

"It is quite enough to look at a map to understand the meaning of this biblical masquerade," says the editor of the Communist party mouthpiece.

Looks to us as if Pravda may be slipping a bit. Why fulminate about maps and borders and imperialists? Why not use the already-familiar line and say that the hunt is a phony because Noah was a Russian, the Ark has been in the Moscow Museum for years and besides the biblical flood was just a trickle compared to the kind Russia has regularly, in fact, arranges under the aegis of the Kremlin.—Columbus Dispatch.

SUPPRESSED DESIRES SHOWN BY MUSIC CLUB

Gay Informal Program Follows Dinner When Club Closes Season Monday Evening

MANSFIELD MUSIC STUDY CLUB members literally let their hair down last evening when "Supressed Desires" was the theme of the gay informal program at the John Simpson Junior high school cafeteria. This "comedy of errors" followed a dinner which was served to more than 150 at small tables attractively decorated with spring bouquets.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. K. E. Buhr and Mrs. W. H. Maxwell. The impromptu entertainment was ably planned by Mrs. William Bishop and John Grabler, two of the club's most versatile members.

The program opened with a "Stop the Music" game led by Mr. Grabler, who played popular numbers on his accordion. On each placecard were musical telephone numbers which were called for this part of the program. Mrs. O. W. Aughbaugh played a duet on the piano and kazoo, a toy instrument which one hums through.

Mrs. Bishop set "World Affairs to music, playing "Three Blind Mice," representing Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill; "Love Duet" for Rita Hayworth and Aly Kahn; "I Wonder Who's Teaching Her How" for Louella Parsons; and "Don't Fence Me In," for Gypsy Rose Lee, plus many other appropriate numbers for world notables.

Miss Dorothy Whitworth and Mrs. Charles Campbell sang a duet in close harmony (too close) and Miss Pearl Danback gave many types of rooster crowing.

One of the highlights of the program was presented by Mrs. Joy Herbert, who said she has always wanted to be a ballet dancer. Dressed in a fantastic short evening dress she danced to a tune "step two, pause, etc.". Miss Thelma Reed entertained with an original poem, "Ode to Me," and imitated Fats Waller.

The closing selection which was enthusiastically received was an imitation of the Andrew Sisters, by Lester Young, John Grabler and Richard Zimmerman.

This was the final meeting of the year and reports were given on the various junior music clubs sponsored by the club. These include Crescendo and Treble Choir, Senior high students; Junior Music Club, Jenior high pupils; and Little Mozarts, elementary pupils.

Elect New Officers

Mrs. LaVerne Thrush was elected president of the Lincoln Heights Mothers' Club at their recent meeting at the Church of the Brethren. Assisting her for the new season will be Mrs. E. E. Leininger, vice president; Mrs. R. A. Cutter, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Ruby, assistant secretary; Mrs. Harold Johnson, treasurer; and Mrs. E. H. Desterhaft, assistant treasurer.

Twenty - four members and fourteen guests were present. Six new members, Mrs. Russell L. Beer, Mrs. Stephen Schmidt, Mrs. C. H. Kemp, Mrs. F. E. Henney, Mrs. Louis Motter and Mrs. Henry Haller, were welcomed.

Plans were discussed for the school picnic to be held at Liberty park on May 20 at 6 p. m. for the school children and their families.

Mildred Ruth Predico Wed To David Ross Porter

The Rev. J. Frank Sewart officiated for the formal ceremony of Miss Mildred Ruth Predico and David Ross Porter April 22 at 3:30 o'clock. The nuptials were spoken before the altar of the Central Methodist church which was decorated with beauty baskets filled with spring flowers, palms and ferns. Two seven branch candelabra lighted the scene.

Miss Predico, 341 Fairfax avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Predico, Munroe Falls, Ohio, and Mr. Porter, who has been residing at 263 Ashland road, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Porter, Scio, Ohio.

Miss Betty Burneson presided at the organ for the nuptial music.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a white satin off-the-shoulder gown. The full skirt fell into a long circular train. A halo of orange blossoms held the bride's fingertip silk illusion veil in place. A bouquet of white roses with an insert corsage of red roses was carried by Miss Predico.

Miss Marcella F. Heiser, a close friend, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow Marquisette with blue accessories. Miss Marjorie and Marilyn Predico, sisters of the bride, were the bridesmaids. They wore blue marquisette gowns with pink accessories. Blue carnations with yellow ribbon was carried by the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids carried pink roses tied with blue ribbon.

Mrs. Predico was attired in a print street length dress for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Porter chose a black dress for the ceremony. Both mothers had orchid corsages.

Lee E. Wright, a friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Guests were escorted to their pews by Charles S. Rice and Peter Hergalt, both friends of the couple.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jones, 341 Fairfax avenue, at 5 o'clock. The bride's table was centered with a large three tiered wedding cake. A pink, green and white color scheme was used throughout the home.

The couple are now residing in Lorain.

Mrs. Porter graduated from Stowe high school, Stowe, Ohio, and Mr. Porter graduated from Scio high school, Scio. Mr. Porter is with the state highway patrol.

Out-of-town guests were in attendance from Akron, Scio, Cadiz, and Loudonville, Ohio.

A donation will be given to the cancer fund and to the Salvation Army building fund. One boy at Buckeye Boys State will be sponsored by the auxiliary in June.

Open Tea To Be Given For Benefit of Cancer Fund

MRS. MARY K. METZGER, 818 Park Avenue west, is one Mansfield woman who is doing her utmost to help the cancer fund. Unable to contribute a large sum of money, Mrs. Metzger feels that the next best thing she can do is to open up her home to all the small contributors who, like herself, can't give a large sum but want to give something.

She is therefore giving a tea with an invitation extended to anyone who will contribute any amount of money to the Cancer Fund. The tea will be given Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 4 p. m. in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 p. m. in the evening. The only stipulation for attendance is a contribution, large or small, to the Cancer Fund.

She says that she can accomodate about forty people in the afternoon and another forty in the evening and she hopes that the many willrealize the importance of the Fund and come to her home. Tea and cookies will be served. Dr. W. E. Wygant and Dr. H. T. Stiles members of the executive board of the Cancerclinic , will speak on the subject of cancer.

Mrs. Metzger lost the major part of her immediate family through cancer and the disease contributed largely to the death of her son last October. Now she feels that she can't possibly do enough to help prevent the tragedy from striking other homes the way it has hers. Last year she gave a tea on a much smaller scale, inviting only people she knew. She raised thirty-five dollars for the campaign then and she hopes to more than double that, tomorrow.

No invitation is necessary for the tea. Anyone who wants to help the Cancer Fund is very cordially invited to attend. Those who are helping Mrs. Metzger prepare for the tea, are Mrs. George Kirschbaum, Mrs. R. A. Warden, Mrs. W. E. Antrican, and Mrs. Richard Laver.

MEET THURSDAY

Circle Four of the Ontario Community church will meet at the home of Mrs. Jud McCune, near Bloominggrove, Thursday evening. The associate hostesses will be Mrs. Marion McCune and Mrs. Harold McCune.

Little Flower Club Convenes

A dinner bridge was held by members of the Little Flower Study club Monday evening. The Richland Recreation was the scene of the dinner with Miss Margaret Rooney as the guest.

Bridge was in play later at the home of Mrs. Rose Johnston, Scholl road. When the scores were tallied, prizes were won by Miss Nell Carrigan and Mrs. John O'Donnell.

The dinner was in charge of the program committee, Mrs. O'Donnell, chairman, Mrs. James Ehalt and Mrs. J. O. Hanley.

Miss Carrigan, Miss Edna Horning and Mrs. Johnston were appointed as the nominating committee during the short business session.

On May 9 the club will hold their scheduled session of the year. Miss Horning will be hostess at her home, 122 West First street. There will be election and installation of officers.

Mansfielder Attends Mid West Meeting

Miss Teresa M. Peiffer attended the mid western regional meeting of Soroptimist club held in Lima, Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Arconne hotel. Miss Peiffer is the regional secretary of the organization.

Representatives from all groups in the six states covered by the region, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Pennsylvania, were present for all sessions, which closed with a luncheon at noon Sunday.

This club is the largest classified women's executive organization in the world, including most of the European countries. A club charter will soon be presented to Uruguay. A plaque with all the flags of the countries which have charters to the club was placed on the table.

An invitation was read and accepted from the Akron group to have the fall conference. Madison, Wisconsin, will be host to the spring meeting.

On June 24 the mid-western region will send a check to the Paris, France, club on the celebration of their twenty-fifth anniversary.

Discussion was held about the $1,500. fellowship which will be presented to a worthy woman, graduating from one of fourteen colleges with a doctor's degree in this district. Announcement of the winner will be made at the grand tea in the near future.

Garden Club Entertained

Mrs. Louis Ott jr., Woodhill road, was hostess to members of the Johnny Appleseed Garden club with Mrs. Roger Black as the associate hostess.

For Wednesday, April 27

A SUDDEN and quite unforeseen turn in events may drastically change the menaced and lagging trend of major objectives. The result may prove dynamic and startling, with strenuous and fourthright attack, in which ingenuity and skill are supported by sound tactics, original thinking and unflagging efforts. Hard work, sustained efforts, initiative, constructive experimentation could avert loss, extravagant expenditures or reckless financial plunges. Serious consideration and rational investments could yield astonishing returns. Shield personal prestige and position.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by opportunities, offers, unusual and surprising in which practical but ingenious and experimental skills, originality in fresh ways and means on old problems, could rise to dynamic performance with enhanced prestige, exceptional rewards or emoluments. This calls for profound study of fundamentals, intensive search for new skills or techniques put over with daring, strenuous but not over-excitable or rash attack. It could be easy to overstep the mark and topple over, with loss of funds, influence and personal prestige. Keep calm but serious, confident.

A child born on this day may be equipped with original talents, skills, and ingenuity to exceptional degree, gaining by its basic dependability. An outstanding career, providing it does not overdo.

Lausche Urges Top Dems to Act on Sheriff Ouster Measure

Governor Again Hits Gambling

Claims Racketeers Now In Full Swing

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche pasted a "must" label on some highly controversial legislation in a closed-door session with Senate Democrats but a few of them appeared luke-warm today.

The governor held a whip-cracking meeting in his office Monday night with 18 to 19 Democratic senators.

He told them he was trongly opposed to the Guthie gross sales tax bill but would favor one to cut collection costs without new taxation.

He said he wanted favorable action on proposals to:

Give him power to remove heriffs failing to enforce anti-gambling laws;

Authorize padlocking of buildings where gambling is conducted;

Create a Fair Employment Practices commission for Ohio; and increase liquor permit fees 50 per cent.

The Senate Judiciary committee recently voted indefinite postponement of the sheriff removal bill, an action usually tantamount to a death blow. The padlock measure is sent to a sub-committee which left its future uncertain.

The governor said in a prepared statement after the two-hour session:

"Since the sheriff's bill was not recommended for passage, there has been a great resurgence of unlawful activity in those few counties where gross abuses by corrupt gambling racketeers have existed.

"For example, in Erie county after a sheriff and prosecutor were elected on a platform of law and order and good enforcement, the entrenched Terrace club was driven out by those officials. But now we have the shocking spectacle of a removal of the Terrace club from Erie county to Lorain county. The problem thus presented is of greater seriousness than is ordinarily recognized.

"The good and decent sheriffs who are in the great majority have nothing to fear from the adoption of the law proposed. The sheriffs in a very few counties which are wide-open and which are concourse, are greatly disturbed."

"In the interest of decency and for the honor of the state, the concern of these individuals should be disregarded so that law and order and honor and decency can be accorded their proper place and be supreme in the community.

"I am sure that this objective can be attained if the sheriff and padlock bills are passed."

Pick Jury In Benner Trial

FREMONT — (INS) — The trial of Arthur F. Benner jr., 20, of Detroit, charged with first-degreee murder in the death of Patrolman George Biggs Nov. 3, probably will begin tomorrow.

Ten jurors were tentatively seated yesterday for the trial but it was uncertain whether the jury would be completed today, since peremptory challenges and selection of an alternate juror remain.

Benner, an ex-convict, is charged with swerving a stolen auto against a truck, crushing Biges, who was attempting to stop Benner. Biggs had jumped on the running board of Benner's car.

Israel Must Pick Which Way to Go

Prefers Neutral Stand If Possible

By JAMES M. LONG

TEL AVIV — (AP) — Tough little Israel, still in the swaddling clothes of infant statehood, is facing her first fullgrown world problem — and doesn't like it.

That problem is how to stay neutral in the cold war between east and west, or which side to pick.

Israel would not like to have to choose. She would rather steer a neutral middle course, at least for the immediate future years in which she must absorb immigrants at a rate proportionally 20 times faster than the United States ever attempted.

But the new Jew of Israel is realistic. He doubts that his state will be allowed neutrality. He hopes, at least, however, that the hour of decision can be postponed.

Yet that hour seems already near to striking.

The issue is expected here to come to its first hard moment of choice when, now that the North Atlantic pact is signed, attention turns to form proposals for a Mediterranean pact.

Italy probably would be in such an alliance, as bridging member between the north Atlantic and Mediterranean pact nations. Greece likely would be in; Turkey almost certainly; Egypt possibly.

And Israel, the little state with the big army at the doorway to the oil wealth, the battlefields and the air bases of the middle east, could hardly escape invitation to make her choice.

Most people here think they know what that choice would be — though they all wish the need for choice would not come. They point out that the communist vote in Israel's first election was less than five per cent.

But there will be hidden factors in the ultimate decision of more far-reaching importance than the division of voters between communist and non-communist parties. That is only the surface.

Two such factors are the American dollar — and the eastern European Jewish immigrant.

In the government here, both factors are being kept in mind. Israel must have dollar credits for her essential imports; dollars with which to develop her own industry; dollars to help finance a nation not expected in the near future to be fully self-supporting.

Russia is not offering financial assistance. But she has cut off the stream of Jewish immigrants from almost all eastern Europe. (None ever was allowed to come from Russia itself.) When or whether this immigration is allowed to resume probably will depend on what Moscow thinks of Israel's future international position.

There is a third factor — Britain. This state, which still smarts under its experiences under the mandate and views with alarm every British move in the middle east, can be expected to regard with caution any pact in which Britain is a sponsor.

The lines of cleavage already are beginning to appear.

In the first sessions of the Knesset — parliament of the Hebrew state — prime minister David Ben Gurion, leader of the labor government, scorched the left for leading "a cold war against the United States."

And his words were answered by some cries of:

"There speaks the American dollars! There talks the Truman loan!"

Pastor to Talk On Marriage

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Employed Girls club of the YWCA Wednesday evening. The meeting will follow a dinner at the YWCA at 6:15 p. m.

Rev. Gensel's topic will be "The Meaning of the Marriage Vows."

He will be the first speaker in a series of talks on marital relations to be given at the weekly meetings.

2,050 Pupils Checked In City, County

Tests Show Ear Defects Common

Possible hearing defects were found in 500 of the 2,050 Mansfield and Richland county school children who have been checked under the hearing conservation program, Health Commissioner Harry Wain said yesterday.

The figures were included in a report to the Exchange and Co-Operative clubs by Dr. Wain at a luncheon meeting at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

He said the 500 pupils are being re-checked, and the pupils who show definite ear defects will be examined at a state hearing clinic which will be held in Mansfield in June.

Wain said all third-grade pupils in the city and county schools have been checked.

The audio conservation program is being carried out with the use of two audiometers, purchased for the program by the Exchange and Co-Operative clubs.

Dr. Wain explained the third graders were tested for hearing difficulties first because it is at that age hearing defects can be accurately checked for the first time.

Besides the 1,300 third-graders tested, 750 students in other grades were checked by request by the health department.

Dr. Edward H. Beilstein gave a demonstration of the audiometers for the two clubs.

A movie was shown to illustrate the results of hearing losses. The movie pointed out how a child may be backward in his school if he can't hear what is being taught, and may even show a tendency to lose ground in a musical course when hearing is impaired.

The picture was shown by Sgt. John Kane, of the Mansfield Army recruiting station, Sgt. Kane said he would be available to clubs to show movies if they have no projector.

2 Permits Issued For New Homes

Building permits for the construction of two new homes have been issued at the city building.

Edward A. Getz, 684 Manchester road, received a permit to construct a home estimated to cost $10,000, at 856 Millsboro road.

A permit was issued to Sarah Wendelmoot, 500 Park avenue west, to build a five-room home at an estimated cost of $8,000 at 579 Glendale boulevard.
